

'Fearless Growth. Relentless Execution.'

Charlie Panayi is a high-impact speaker who inspires audiences to push past fear, sharpen their focus, and take massive action. By the age of 25 he had become a self-made millionaire, having started investing in property at 18 and building multiple businesses along the way.

Today he invests across property and business ventures while speaking internationally on the mindset, discipline, and decision making required to build and scale meaningful success.

He now sits on the board of directors for various companies, leads multiple investment ventures, and speaks worldwide on fear, mindset, scaling businesses, sales, and property investment.

Charlie also serves on the Board of Directors for Mountbatten Hospice and supports the campaign for Zoe's Law, advocating improved melanoma testing standards.

His talks are direct, relatable, and results-driven, providing audiences with practical strategies to overcome challenges and achieve extraordinary success.
